

Stoffer Wealth Advisors

Financial expert Jeff Stoffer
presents two enlightening opportunities to transform your ideas about money.

Emotions and Money: What Makes You Tick?

Jeff leads participants through a highly interactive workshop that helps you get in touch with your unconscious beliefs and emotions about money.

- Discover how emotions derail financial decisions, dooming you to make the same mistakes over and over.
- Identify some of your unconscious beliefs about money
- Learn to make financial decisions in alignment with your values

Explore how the past influences the financial choices you make today.

LECTURE

The Psychology of Money

Do you spend your money on what matters most? Jeff leads you through some of the most important developments in psychology and neuroscience research (without the jargon, of course!) on how people make financial decisions.

- How immediate gratification hinders saving for the future
- How stress triggers automatic responses in situations involving money
- How stories from your past may still haunt you

Jeff highlights actions that lead to poor financial decisions and how to avoid them.

About Jeff

For over five years Jeff has been speaking to audiences on how our emotions about money affect our financial lives. The cultural message we buy into is that more is always better, but how much you have isn't as important as how you feel about it. Jeff helps people discover some of their own beliefs about money in an entertaining and engaging manner.
